Numb. 150.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Thurſday, September 30. to Thurſday, October 7. 1731.

MOSCOW, June 28.

TWO Expreſſes have been lately ſent to London and Vienna. 'Tis confirm'd that a good Underſtanding between this Court and Great Britain is entirely reſtor'd, and a Treaty of Commerce concluded, whereby the Duties of Import and Export are reinſtated on the ſame Foot they were in the Reign of Peter the Great; purſuant to which, Orders have been diſpatch'd to Petersburg, Riga, Archangel, and other Ports, to exact no other Duties from the Britiſh and Dutch Veſſels but thoſe abovementioned.

Amſterdam, July 6. A Ship is arrived here from Davis's Streights, with ſeven Whales and an half, and 430 Barrels of Blubber: She ſailed from States Cape the 7th of June, and brings Newsthat our Ships had caught together about 135 Whales.

Rome, July 14. Seignior Almeida, a Native of Portugal, having been admitted to his Holineſs's Audience, which laſted very long, we are induced to believe, that the Difference between the Holy See and that Monarch is upon the Point of being terminated in an amicable manner.

Extract of a Letter from Cadiz, July 17.

The Aſſogues arrived here three Days ago, laſt from the Havanna, from whence came as Admiral, and arrived with them, a new Man of War of 60 Guns, called the Conqueror: ſhe brought half the Treaſure, and is a handſome Ship, conſidering ſhe was built at the Havana; part of her Timbers belong'd to the quondam Glouceſter, which was ſent there to be broke up. Off the Capes they met with the Conde Civijo's Squadron, (7 Sail) which they joined, and came in Company with to the Bay of Bulls, where the Squadron yet continues at Anchor, but the reſt are gone up to Pountales. Had the King delivered the Flota's Treaſure in Time, to have been known at La vera Cruz before theſe Ships came from thence, they would have brought double the Sum they do; for ſeveral that deſign'd to have ſhipped largely, altered their Minds and ſent their Money back.' Tis poſſible it may come to his Majeſty's Ear, if ſo, as he is a pious and wiſe Prince, ſome flatter themſelves it may produce an Order for the Delivery of what is ſo unjuſtly detained from the Commerce; and 'twould be good Policy to begin ſuch Delivery before the new Aſſogues depart, which intend to ſail the Beginning of Auguſt: But if it be deferred till the Galleons arrive, we have no Remedy but Patience.

It is ſaid that Civijo's Squadron will ſoon put to Sea, and wait off the Capes for the Arrival of a Britiſh Squadron, which is ſoon expected in theſe Seas.

Cargo of the Azogues arrived the 14*th of* July, from La vera Cruz and the Havanna.

Leghorn, July 21. Laſt Sunday a French Ship called the Annunciation, ſailed from hence with warlike Stores, Guns and Ammunition for Corſica, and about 100 Natives of that Iſland; which Ship was ſoon after taken by the Gallies belonging to the Republick of Genoa, who chained all the People they found on board to the Oars. A large Aſſurance had been made here on her at 5 1 half per Cent. This Affair makes a great Noiſe here, and we are eager to know how the Court of France will behave in Relation to it.

Copenhagen, July 21. By an Advice Boat from Barcelona we learn, that the Swiſs Troops are on their March for Gibraltar, to be followed ſoon by the Walloon Regiment; and that great Naval Preparations were making in that Port.

Paris, Aug. 5. The Queen gave a ſecond Naval Feaſt the 23d paſt, upon the great Tract of of Water contiguous to the Queen's Garden at Fontainbleau. Her Majeſty was in a gilt Brigantine with 8 Oars, and the Ladies of the Palace in the Gondolas; and after having made ſeveral Tours, they approach'd the Cloſet which is built in the middle of the Water, where the Officers of her Houſhold attended with all manner of Refreſhments. During her Majeſty's being upon the Water, there was an harmonious Symphony of Inſtrumental and Vocal Muſick, which was plac'd in the Galleries that inviron the Water.

Amſterdam, Aug. 5. We ſee here Letters from Dunkirk, of the 2d Inſtant, which adviſe, that an Engliſh Man of War and another Ship of that Nation then lay off that Harbour, with Intent, as they ſuppoſe, to preſs the Men out of any Engliſh Ships that ſhould go from Dunkirk.

Aug. 6. It is adviſed from Seville, of the 13th paſt, that the Preparations for the tranſporting Don Carlos into Italy as ſoon as the Engliſh Squadron arrives, are continued with all Diligence; and that the King had appointed Perſons to attend him, but the Liſt of them was not yet publiſhed. That the Mooriſh Prince lately arrived there, was not like to ſucceed in his Negociations: Mean time the Envoy of the Emperor of Morocco, has received his Credentials from Mequinez, and the Court has granted him a Maintenance.

Bruſſels, Aug 7. The laſt Letters from Conſtantinople adviſe, that the Ottoman Port has reſolved to puſh on the War with Vigour againſt the Sophy of Perſia, who continues the Siege of Erivan, and has cauſed the whole Country within 20 Leagues of that Town to be deſtroy'd, to cut off all Hope of any Subſiſtence coming to the Beſieged. We learn from Duſſeldrop, that two Horſes were lately killed by Lightning, in a Stable not above 12 ſteps from the Powder Magazine, which had ſtruck the whole City with great Terror.

LONDON, June 14. The Bacchus, Capt. Stevens, which is arriv'd at Briſtol from Jamaica, was taken the 27th of April by a Spaniſh Guarda Coſta, of 8 Carriage Guns, and 10 Swivels, between the Havanna and the Gulph, which fired a Gun at her, and ſhe return'd; upon which they hoiſted a red Flag, with a Death's Head in the Middle, when the Bacchus ſtruck, and her Boat went on board the Spaniard, who told them, that if they had fired another Gun, they ſhould have had no Quarter. They plundered her of all they liked, and ſtripp'd the Captain and People of their Clothes, Linnen, &c. and threatned them with immediate Death if they did not diſcover where their Money lay, and had Ropes rieved at the Yard Arm ready. They opened all the Letters in the Captain's Cuſtody, and ſearched very ſtrictly. The Runlet Sloop, Capt. Brin, of Rhodeiſland, was taken in Company with the Bacchus: They treated her Men very barbarouſly, putting their Fingers between Gunlock Skrews, till they flatten'd them, and ſome had lighted Matches between, in order to extort a Confeſſion where their Money lay, of which they had none on board. They likewiſe plundered the Sloop, and ſtripp'd the Captain and Men of all their Cloaths and Inſtruments. Theſe Rogues reported, that the Day before they took the Humber Sloop of Rhodeiſland, Capt. Rogers; they left one of their Men on board the ſaid Sloop, drunk, and Capt. Rogers had Orders to keep them Company that Night; but a Gale ſpringing up, the Captain truſted to his Sloop's ſailing, and ſheered off, notwithſtanding the Pirate fired eight or ten Guns to make him bring to. About eight Days before, they took the Recovery of London, Capt. Wheatle, and plundered her of a large Sum of Money. The Bacchus was the eighth Prize they had taken in 20 Days after coming out of Porto Rico. A Mulatto on board, of ſome Diſtinction among them, made ſeveral Offers to ſhoot the Captain of the Runlet and the Mate of the Bacchus; but the Commander of the Pyrate, who behav'd himſelf the moſt civil among them, prevented him; (his Name Don Juan Delabarca Mondonda Elabarca, and the Sloop the San Franciſco Xavier.) They had three Linguiſts to examine Prizes, and the Crew conſiſted of 70 Men, Spaniſh, French, Iriſh, Engliſh, &c. beſides Officers. They gave out that they had ſeveral Conſorts. While the Bacchus and Runlet were plundering, two Sail appeared in ſight; ſo they were diſmiſſed after ſix Hours Detention, and the Pirates made the beſt of their way to ſpeak with the others.

June 16. A Royal Proclamation is iſſued, forbidding all his Majeſty's Subjects to give or furniſh any manner of Aſſiſtance to any of the Inhabitants of Corſica, now in Rebellion againſt the Republick of Genoa.

The Rebecca, Robert Jenkins, Maſter, ſailed from Jamaica, with a Lading of Sugar, &c. for London; but on the 9th of April laſt, being becalmed and near the Havana, a Spaniſh Guarda Coſta, which came out of that Harbour, came up with her by rowing with 16 Oars, when ſhe fired ſeveral Shot at the Rebecca, and ordered her Boat to be hoiſted out and ſent on board of her, which accordingly was done, and in it, with ſome others, went the Mate, with her Clearance from Jamaica, expecting that would give ſufficient ſatisfaction, it being a Time of profound Peace with Spain; but on the contrary, the People were detained by the Spaniards, who ſent the Boat back full of armed Men, who told Capt. Jenkins, that they were come to viſit his Ship for Money, Logwood, Hides, or Tallow, the Product of the Spaniſh Settlements in America. To which he anſwered, That the King of Spain's Officers were welcome, and might do their Duty, for that there was nothing on board but what was the Growth and Produce of Jamaica. By that Time their Number amounted to about 50 Men. They broke open all her Hatches, Lockers and Cheſts, in which finding finding nothing to their Purpoſe, their Lieutenant ordered Capt. Jenkins's Hands to be tied, as alſo his Mate's, and ſeized them to the Foremaſt, and then cut and violently beat a Mulatto Boy (his Servant) to extort a Confeſſion of there being Money in the Ship; but he confeſſing nothing, they began with Capt. Jenkins, putting a Rope about his Neck, and another about the Boy's, which they faſtned to him, and hoiſted them up to the Fore-Yard; the Boy being light, ſlipt through the Nooſe, to the Captain's great Eaſe; and after keeping him hanging for a ſhort ſpace, they let him fall down amain on the Deck, and asked him if he would not then confeſs where his Money was. But he ſtill told them he had none; on which he was hoiſted up a ſecond time, and ſwiftly let down again, and being then asked the ſame Queſtion, he replied as before, adding that they might torture him to Death, but he could not make any other Anſwer: They threatned to burn the Ship, and him and his People in it, for that they were obſtinate Hereticks; but after giving him about half an hour's Reſpite, while they conſulted together about him, he having the Rope all the while about his Neck, the Man who firſt put it on, told him he muſt go up again, ſearched his Pockets, took his ſilver Buckles out of his Shoes, and then hoiſted him up and kept him hanging until he was quite ſtrangled, and then let him fall down the Fore-Hatch upon the Casks, which bruiſed him very much; from thence he was dragged by the Neck upon Deck again, and there lay to appearance dead for near a quarter of an Hour: When he recovered, their Lieutenant came to him with Piſtols and a Cutlaſs in his Hands, went to him, crying, Confeſs, Confeſs, or die: He told him he had no more Money than he had ſhewed him at firſt, being four Guineas, one Piſtole, and four double Doubloons, which he had already taken: The Lieutenant then took hold of his left Ear, and with his Cutlaſs ſlit it down; and then another of the Spaniards took hold of it and tore it off, but gave him the Piece of his Ear again, bidding him carry it to his Majeſty King George. Orders were then given for ſcalping of him, but finding his Head cloſe ſhaved, they forbore executing that part of his Sentence. His Mate, and Boatſwain were alſo umercifully beat, but underwent no other Puniſhment. They ſtripped the whole Crew of their Cloaths, Beds, Bedding, &c. The Captain's own Loſs, of his Watch, Gold, Cloaths, Linnen, &c. on a moderate Valuation, amounted to 112 l. Sterling. And in order to deſtroy the Ship, they took away all his Inſtruments of Navigation, and all the Candles they had, for want of which in the Night they burned Oil and Butter in the Benacle to ſteer by. Their Sloop appeared to have been built in Bermuda, and had San Antonio wrote in her Stern. Their Commander they called Juan Franciſco, and their Lieutenant Doree; but theſe Names are ſuppoſed to be fictitious.

Having done tormenting the unhappy Capt. Jenkins, after keeping his Ship the beſt part of the Day, they diſmiſſed her, and the Captain bore away for the Havana, hoping to find there ſome Britiſh Ships, from whom he might procure ſufficient Neceſſaries to enable him to proceed on his Voyage; but thoſe in the Sloop perceiving it, ſtood after him, and declared that if he did not go immediately for the Gulph, they would ſet the Ship on Fire; and rather than have a ſecond Viſit from them, they recommended themſelves to the Mercy of the Seas; and after very many great Hardſhips and Perils, they happily in the River Thames on Friday laſt.

POSTSCRIPT.

Friday Morning, The Poſt from New-York did not arrive laſt Night, by Whom we have the following Advices.

London, July 24. We hear that a Squadron of Ships will very ſpeedily be ſent to the Weſt Indies, under the command of Admiral Cavendiſh.

The Parliament is farther prorogued to the 26th of Aug.

New-York, Octob. 4. We have an Account from Albany, dated the 25th of laſt Month, that the French of Canada, with about eighty Men, have built a Fort and encloſed it with Stockadoes, at the Crown Point, on the ſouth Side of Corlaers Lake, near the Carrying Place above Sargtogo, about three Days Journey from Albany; and have alſo built a Houſe of forty Foot, and are buſy to erect two more there. The Perſons who brought this Account, do add, That they were credibly inform'd iu Canada, that the French deſign to encloſe the ſaid Fort and Buildings with a Stone Wall next Spring; and at the ſame time to ſend up 200 Men to Tiederondequat, on the ſouth Side of Cadraeque Lake, above Oſwego, near the Senekas Country, in order to ſtop the Engliſh from trading with the Indians. It is apprehended, that if theſe Encroachments of the French are not prevented, they may prove of the laſt conſequence to this and his Majeſty's adjacent Colonies here in America.
